License Agreement/Release Form
Contribution to Leonardo Digital Supplemental Materials

We look forward to including your work ("the Digital Material") tentatively entitled

_____
(title)

(format)

in a Digital Supplement ("the Supplement") that we intend to publish containing the Digital Supplemental Material and other material, that is to be published in conjunction with your Leonardo article. You have already furnished or will furnish to the Leonardo Editorial Office a high-quality digital file(s) or other media format agreed upon between you and the Leonardo Editor, containing the Digital Supplemental Material. For convenience the term "Digital Supplemental Material" as used in this Agreement includes the particular recording of the work that you are supplying to us (e.g. video or audio recording, photograph, etc.) as well as the underlying original work.

You hereby grant to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and the International Society for the Arts, Sciences and Technology (ISAST), a nonexclusive, royalty-free, worldwide license (i) to reproduce and distribute the Digital Supplemental Material as part of the Supplement and other Leonardo collections; (ii) to license performance and transmission of the Digital Supplemental Material in all media and post the Digital Material on the Internet, solely in connection with the journals; and (iii) to permit the Digital Supplemental Material to be included in any database where Leonardo is posted. (One example of the latter is Project MUSE, an archival database of scholarly journals hosted on the web by Johns Hopkins University, to which MIT Press is licensing a number of journals including Leonardo.)

Although you are delivering the Digital Supplemental Material to the Editorial Office in digital form, the licenses you have given MIT and ISAST here include analog and all other forms and formats as well. You will retain the copyright and all other rights in the Digital Supplemental Material, subject only to the licenses stated above.

You warrant that you are the sole author(s) of the Digital Supplemental Material, that you have full unfettered rights in it and that it is an original work that does not infringe on any copyright. If persons other than you have contributed to the performance or recording of the Digital Supplemental Material, you warrant that the performance was recorded with their consent and that you own all rights in the recording. If there is more than one author of the Digital Supplemental Material, and not all of them are signing this license agreement, you warrant that you are authorized to sign for all authors. If this Digital Supplemental Material or any part of it has been previously published or contains material copyrighted by a third party, you further warrant that you have obtained all necessary permissions or licenses and are enclosing them with this form. You agree to indemnify MIT Press and ISAST against any breach of any of these warranties.

This agreement will be governed by U.S. copyright laws and the contract laws of Massachusetts. It will be binding on and inure to the benefit of our respective successors, assigns, licensees and sub-licensees. It may not be amended except in writing.
